DEDICATED INTERNET BENEFITS

Dedicated internet access is what connects your employees to their work and your customers. Most business applications are delivered via software as a service. Dedicated internet access allows your business to stay continuously connected.

Guaranteed Bandwidth

With dedicated internet access, your company is guaranteed to receive the bandwidth you purchased, 99.5% of the time. If your company purchases 100m dedicated connection, you will always receive 100m

Synchronous Upload and Download Speeds

If your company purchases a 100m connection, both your download and upload speed will always be 100m. Fast upload speed is important if your company has many remote users, cloud apps and VoIP. Less expensive, shared internet connections typical have a fast download speed and a significantly slower upload speed.

DEDICATED INTERNET SERVICES

Better Throughput

Dedicated internet customers are kept on a high capacity, under-subscribed network. Shared internet connections often run on jammed, over-subscribed networks. Therefore, despite having the same circuit speed, a 100m dedicated internet connection will almost always be faster than a 100m inexpensive shared internet connection.

Service Level Agreement

With real-time applications like VoIP, video and remote desktop growing in popularity, elements such as latency, packet loss, and jitter are extremely important to your company's internet connection. A service level agreement guarantees a monetary refund for certain connection interruptions.
