

CREATING SAFER AND HEALTHIER ENVIRONMENTS

Keeping people and facilities safe is a primary concern for everyone in facilities. No matter who you are or where you are with your program, there are a few things to keep in mind:

- What safety and security risks are present in and around your facilities?
- Does your facilities team know how to respond in an emergency?
- When an event occurs, how will you maintain operations short-term and long-term?
- Do you have training in place to support your programs?

Our broad base of safety and security experience, combined with our knowledge of building operations, maintenance and capital planning, will provide you with perspective on how facilities are planned, managed and operated. We offer physical security, emergency preparedness, and emergency response and business resilience services to help you create safer and healthier environments for your facilities.

Our Vision

To shape the future of how facilities are managed, operated, maintained and sustained.

OUR SERVICES

PHYSICAL SECURITY

PHYSICAL SECURITY

An effective security program begins with a physical security plan that includes an examination of physical elements, protocols to follow in the event of an emergency, and an evaluation of risks to your people and property. Our team starts with an objective, top-down security assessment that employs the rigor and discipline of our patented methodology to develop a customized roadmap for improvement.

EMERGENCY PREPAREDNESS

EMERGENCY PREPAREDNESS

An emergency preparedness program addresses risks, a plan for how to respond to those risks and education and training to support a cohesive outcome. FEA can help you with:

- Emergency plan development
- Facility security consulting technical assistance
- Education and training (e.g. tabletop exercises, active shooter training, lockdown drills)

EMERGENCY RESPONSE & BUSINESS RESILIENCE

EMERGENCY RESPONSE AND BUSINESS RESILIENCE

Are you prepared for the first 24 hours after an emergency? What about the next 24 days? Business resilience is the ability to rapidly adapt and respond to business disruptions, safeguard people and assets, and maintain continuous business operations. FEA can help you respond, resume and restore to a predetermined level of operations following a
